We go live in September!

Are you a seasoned sports scientist looking to share your expertise with a global audience? At Achieveminds Coaching, we provide a platform for you to impact athletes and clients worldwide while creating significant income opportunities. As a sports scientist on our platform, you will deliver 1-on-1 sessions, group coaching, and eventually, webinars, all tailored to optimize your clients' physical performance. You can set your hourly rate, starting at €50, and choose the structure that best suits your professional goals.

To ensure our clients receive the highest quality service, we require all coaches to meet specific qualifications. You must hold a degree in Sports Science or a related field and have 3+ years of experience working with clients or athletes in a professional capacity. This experience is crucial to deliver effective, results-driven coaching that meets our standards of excellence. In addition to your educational background and experience, professionalism, clear communication, and reliability are expected of all our coaches.

Joining Achieveminds Coaching involves a one-time fee of €229 to access our platform's tools and resources. From the second year onward, there is a €60 yearly fee (€5 per month) to maintain your access and continue benefiting from our support. We operate on a revenue-sharing model with an 8% cutoff on each session or unit sold, ensuring that 92% of the earnings go directly to you. This structure allows you to grow your client base and increase your income while receiving the support you need.

If you meet the requirements and are excited about the prospect of joining a global community of top-tier coaches, we invite you to apply today. Click here to apply and take the next step in your sports science career with Achieveminds Coaching.
